

HUNGARY, MUTILATED BY TREATIES OF PEACE, NEAR CRISIS, AID NEEDED

Budapest, June 20. Unless the great powers come to the assistance of Hungary as they did in the case of Austria, I can not for the life of me see how she can escape going on the rocks.

Two years ago her deficit amounted to sixteen and a half billion crowns. Today she has an actual deficit in the 1922-23 budget of over forty billion crowns.

March 1, the crown was worth 522 to the dollar. April 1, the crown was worth only 4300 to the dollar.

A recent attempt to borrow some money in London met with failure. London said: "Give us a mortgage on all your transit and warehouse receipts and reform your government to suit, and we'll consider the application."

Crisis Is Near

The League of Nations is working with success in Austria, but no one power, let alone any one financial group, can thus assume a sort of dictatorship over Hungary no matter how benevolent the intent and not even if Hungary sinks out of sight forever for refusing.

The day may soon come, however, when Hungary, like Austria will have from the League or a group of world powers and collapsing.

Certainly she can not long go on the way she will almost inevitably have to begin speeding up her paper money output which, of course, would plunge the country into deeper trouble still.

Like Austria before the league stepped in she could not then stop the presses until she had balanced her budget and she could not balance her budget so long as the printing presses kept grinding out depreciating paper. That is the danger now threatening Hungary.

Hungary's plight today is scarcely to her discredit. The wonder is she survived the Treaty of Trianon, which fixed her status after the war, six months.

Have a look at the map accompanying this article. She lost as the result of the war, more than two-thirds of her area. From an empire of 125,000 square miles she was cut down to 35,000 square miles less than the size of the state of Indiana.

From a population of 25,000,000, she was born of all but 7,100,000.

She lost 100 per cent of her salt mines; 98 per cent of her iron ore; 96 per cent of her water power; 88 per cent of her forests; 68 per cent of her cattle; 66 per cent of her cotton industries; 60 per cent of her breadstuffs; 60 per cent of her stock of horses; 60 per cent of her iron industry; 56 per cent of her sugar industry; 55 per cent of her tobacco business and the same percentage of her spirits exports; and so on down the line with flax, leather, petroleum refineries, fertilizers and what not.

Hungary today has little to export but is obliged to import much. This creates a stupendous trade balance against her which in turn, knocks the props from under her exchange.

Has Shops, No Goods

Most of the factories are in and around Budapest and the towns of present day Hungary. The raw materials are outside existing frontiers. So the rate of exchange when the factories go to buy raw materials from what are now foreign countries, boosts Hungarian production costs to a point where Hungary can not compete.

This hits the working man. Here, as in Austria, the workers who can do so are emigrating going to the Ruhr to dig coal, to America as many as American will take to any old place where there is a chance of finding work.

And mind you, the reparations problem is yet to be faced. Small wonder Hungary is desperate and that the people are rapidly losing confidence in their future. What will happen tomorrow? They don't know. But they are very much afraid.

To my mind it is another job for the League of Nations.

GOOD SOAP FOR TWO CENTS A POUND

Make It At Home By This Easy Process—Takes Less Than 30 Minutes.

Nowadays, more and more women are doing as their mothers did and are making their own soap. If you have never tried it, you will be surprised to see how easy it is to make good soap, soft soap, hard soap or flaking soap, just by using kitchen scraps and waste grease together with a can of Merry War Lye, the safe and sure soapmaker.

In the old days when soap was made by the boiling process it took nearly all day to make a kettle of soap. Now it is hardly any work at all—requires no boiling—takes less than 30 minutes. Saves you money and gives you all the pure, clean soap you need for kitchen, laundry and all household purposes.

You will find simple directions for soap-making on the label of every can of Merry War Lye.

Merry War Powdered Lye comes in a convenient can with revolving sifter top that cannot come off, cannot get lost, refills tightly and preserves contents. It is economical to buy and easy to use.

KIWANIS DISTRICT GOVERNOR IS SPEAKER TODAY

Gilbert Gives Splendid Address on Kiwanian Ideals—Royd Ford
Speaks on Plans for District Convention

SPECIAL JUDGE HARDIN
AMONG GUESTS TODAY

"Kiwanis means much more than eating and drinking together in a spirit of good fellowship and friendship," declared Charles Gilbert of Nashville, Kentucky-Tennessee district Kiwanis governor, speaking at the noon luncheon of the club here today. "It means the development of the highest ideals of manhood. Shantle on this club that does not make its city and district the better for being in it."

This is Mr. Gilbert's first visit to Middlesboro and he spoke highly of the city, saying that, whereas he had been uneasy about Middlesboro's ability to entertain the convention, he knew that now he had only to live this to the club here to be handled adequately. He said that he expected this to be the best convention the district had ever had and that the program would unquestionably be the best.

Leaving the subject of the convention, Mr. Gilbert spoke briefly on Kiwanis ideals, stressing particularly the two features that the International Club was emphasizing, the square deal for the underprivileged child and the endeavor to bring the man in the country and the man in town together.

He urged upon the local club to take up the underprivileged child problem seriously, creating a committee to care for boys who had lost their father, or who had no one to go to for advice and other companionship. He asked that each Kiwanian who could become an "older brother" to a boy, helping him in and out of school, at work and at play, and he placed the responsibility on the Middlesboro club to develop such a system.

Going to his other topic he spoke of the golf that seemed always to exist between the farmer and the town dwellers. He urged that farmers from outlying districts be invited in to membership in the club and that their problems and Middlesboro's problems be worked out together so that complete unanimity exist between the two.

In closing, Mr. Gilbert brought out a few points on citizenship, brought up by having met the men on jury service who were eating lunch upstairs. He said that he had noticed that it was almost impossible to get the man who was capable of giving an intelligent verdict and proper consideration to a case, to serve, and declared that when he saw men of such high class as those on this jury, he knew it opened well for the town. He urged that Kiwanians miss no opportunity to take part in public service, that every Kiwanian and his household go to the polls every election and vote for the best man, closing by saying that if every Kiwanian in the district did his duty as a citizen this would indeed be a better section.

Royd Ford of Knoxville, district secretary, spoke a few minutes on the convention, declaring that he was convinced Middlesboro would have the best convention the district had ever had but that it would take more than the officers and directors to get this, but the one hundred per cent time and cooperation of the members until the convention was over. He then outlined the duties of the various committees which had been or were to be appointed, closing by urging the most wide spread publicity for the convention possible.

Judge Charles A. Hardin of Harrodsburg, special judge in the Fred Howard murder case, was a guest of the club today and, called on to make a short speech, took the time in praising Middlesboro and the section roundabout in very glowing terms. Judge W. T. Davis of Pineville was also called on for a short speech. Judge T. G. Anderson and J. E. Beach were introduced as new members of the club. President A. P. Liebig announced a meeting of the board of directors for Monday night to appoint committees for the convention.

Tom Yarbber was chairman today. D. C. Wester and Rev. E. E. Burnside drew the attendance prizes, and the silent boost, little knife sharpeners with the Kiwanis insign on one side, were the silent boost, given by the Kentucky Mine Supply Co.

L. R. Reams of Corbin is the guest here of his brother S. M. Reams.

M. A. Cagle of Corbin was visiting in Middlesboro yesterday.

Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Martin and family of Knoxville are visiting Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Carter.

Misses Helen and Elizabeth Watson of Knoxville are visiting in Middlesboro.

Andy Slusher and family have returned from a three days' fishing trip near Flat Lick.

Miss Lillian Frazier of Jacksboro,

Fla., is visiting Mrs. Katie B. Russell and friends here.

Mrs. Flora Stiegler of Portland, Ore., is visiting her sister, Mrs. S. E. Fulton here. The two sisters had not seen each other for twenty-three years. Mrs. Stiegler is a daughter of Niel Jennings and was born and raised in Lee county. She commented with astonishment on the improvement in Middlesboro since she was last here.

R. Schlar of Nashville is the guest here of his daughter, Mrs. Jake Greenstein.

Own People Cannot Care For Them, So Death Is Only Hope Of 9000 Refugees

SCUTARI, Asia Minor, June 20. The bottomless pit of hell could be little worse than a certain corner of this quarter of Constantinople where 9000 Greek refugees lie dying.

On a point of land jutting out into the Sea of Marmora, one side washed by the waters from the Black Sea ever flowing in a swift current through the Bosphorus, stands Selimieh Barracks, a huge building built in the form of a hollow square.

EVERETT TRUE

By Condo

DON'T PUT ON YOUR GOOD CLOTHES THIS MORNING. WHY NOT? DID YOU FORGET, MY DEAR, THAT THIS IS A HOLIDAY?

I DID NOT HERE ARE YOUR OVERALLS!!!

9000 ragged refugees, mostly women and children, out of the interior of Asia Minor and from along the shores of the Black Sea.

Sleeping on the floor, on the stones of the courtyard, lying all over the place where space is to be found, these wretched people, clad in filthy rags and in a state of squalor almost unbelievable, are waiting and for what?

The Greeks say they cannot take them because they have no place for them all available building and encampments through the nation being already jammed with more than a Million refugees who have already arrived in Greece.

The Turks do not want them and they can not return to their homes lest they be massacred. What is to become of them?

Smallpox and typhus are answering that question. They are dying at the rate of from 300 to 500 a week, victims of these terrible diseases.

The Near East Relief is working heroically among these people yet in the absence of any co-operation whatever on the part of the Turks, the task is well nigh hopeless. It is even said the Turks look with grim satisfaction upon the appalling death rate. It is solving the problem of the Greek refugees for them.

Certainly the Turks are more of a hindrance than a help in the relief work here. Even the American food brought in from the United States to feed these starving and dying wretches must pay duty to the Turks.

More than once the herculean efforts of the American workers and their assistants have gone for naught through the direct interference of the Turks.

Terrible Conditions

Here is an instance:

The sick people, the dying and the dead being mingled in one infernal mass, typhus patients lying on the same mat with a typhoid patient or the victim of pneumonia, the American workers get about to "clean house," segregate the patients, delouse the sufferers and disinfect the barracks.

It was like cleaning the Augean stables. The patients themselves of a mentality which made them in sensible to all ideas of sanitation, added to the difficulty. They could grasp nothing beyond stringing a blue glass bead about their necks and trusting to that to frustrate disease and death.

Patients Robbed

But one by one the rooms in the barracks proper were cleaned, disinfected, deloused and the patients washed and cleaned and put back. Finally the work was almost completed.

Then one night, terrible screams were heard coming from the stables where the overflow refugees were crowded. Turkish robbers from the neighboring hills were holding up the sick, and dying and dead, and well, and robbing them of their pitiful belongings.

The Turks, called in to stop the robbery, at once drove the typhus and smallpox stricken out of the stables into the barracks all over it, scattering infection, all over again, throughout the place.

And so the horror goes on here. In this one camp. There are others. Some 25,000 refugees are in Constantinople while another 25,000 are in similar camps along the shores of the Black Sea waiting, waiting.

COAL SOLD FOR LESS THAN COST

Conditions in Kentucky Field Reported By Federal Fuel Dis- tribute

WASHINGTON, June 21.—(AP)—The fuel situation in Kentucky is now being reported by the Federal Fuel Distributors. The report states that the conditions in the Kentucky field are such that coal is being sold for less than cost. This is due to the fact that the supply of coal is so large that the distributors are unable to sell it at the current market price. The report also states that the conditions in the Kentucky field are such that coal is being sold for less than cost. This is due to the fact that the supply of coal is so large that the distributors are unable to sell it at the current market price.

THE STUDEBAKER LIGHT SIX TOURING CAR

A Real Achievement in Dollar-for-dollar Value

The thousands of Studebaker Light-Sixes in daily use are the best possible assurance of what may be expected next year—or several years hence—of the Light Six you buy today.

For after all, the best way to judge a new motor car is by what it has done—how it has stood up in service—the satisfaction it has delivered.

We sincerely believe that the Light-Six Touring Car, with its improved all steel body, is the sturdiest, handsomest, most comfortable, most dependable and economical low priced car built.

The machining of all surfaces of the crankshaft and connecting rods, to which is largely due its practical absence of vibration, is a practice used by Studebaker exclusively on cars at this price and is found only on a few other cars whose selling prices are from three to ten times as high as the Light Six.

The one piece, rain proof windshield with parking lights set in the base, is a joy to the driver—nothing to mar his view of the road ahead. Deep, fat cushions are upholstered in genuine leather. Curtains, bound on three sides by steel rods, open with the doors and provide closed car coziness in bad weather.

The most seasoned driver will find a new thrill in the smooth, quiet, steady performance of the Light Six—and in its ease of handling, and in the way it performs in high gear at low speeds—eliminating constant gear shifting.

The name Studebaker has stood for high grade transportation, quality, value and integrity for 71 years.
